Advancing the professionalism of tertiary education management

Association for Tertiary Education Management

ABOUT ATEM

- Providing professional development for its members and the tertiary education sector since 1976.
- Raising the profile of tertiary education administration and management as a professional career.
- Working with individual and corporate members across Australia, New Zealand and internationally to build professional skills, knowledge and behaviours.

Tertiary education administration and management is a specialised and developing profession within academic institutions, requiring a commitment to lifelong learning and continuous professional development, and to the highest standards of professional practice.

JOIN US

Membership of ATEM provides you with many opportunities to build your career and contribute to the professionalisation of tertiary education management:

- targeted career and professional skill development programs, conferences and special events,
- networking with leading tertiary education administrators and managers in Australia and New Zealand,
- regular weekend updates with news of current happenings and publications
- the Journal of Higher Education Policy and Management, published jointly by ATEM and the LH Martin Institute for Higher Education Leadership and Management, sent to you five times a year,
- topical news and articles from members in our quarterly newsletter ATEM Matters,
- the annual Tertiary Education Management Conference where you will hear the brightest minds in the sector share insights with you, and
- access to study scholarships and travel grants.

WHAT WE DO

ATEM connects, supports and challenges individuals and institutions to recognise and advance the professionalism of tertiary education management in Australia and New Zealand.

HOW WE DO IT

ATEM connects people across institutions and disciplines, supports them to develop their management skills and knowledge, and challenges the sector to recognise the professional nature of tertiary education management. We do this by:

- growing careers
growing the careers of professional administrators and managers to enable them to have rewarding careers and contribute beyond their jobs to the broader sector
- building professionalism
building professionalism for the sector through relevant education and training, and recognising outstanding achievements in the sector
- hot topics
providing opportunities to explore and discuss the implications of today's government policy and other changes in the sector
- connecting people and groups
connecting people and groups across the sector to promote sharing of programs, knowledge and practice
- understanding the sector
providing programs and resources for individuals and groups to better understand the tertiary education sector

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

I invite you to join ATEM, a vibrant association of your peers. We work together to advance the professionalism of tertiary education management. No matter where you are employed, you will find something in ATEM for you, from our professional development programs, to our conferences and publications. Most importantly, ATEM will give you opportunities to network in meaningful ways and to build connections across tertiary education that will enhance and support your career development. Join us today to experience the value ATEM can bring your work and your career!

Dr Stephen Weller,
ATEM President
Deputy Vice-Chancellor (University Services) and Registrar
James Cook University, Cairns Campus

OUR STAKEHOLDERS

Our key stakeholders are our members, tertiary education institutions, and the sector.

We provide a range of professional education and training programs, career development and other resources and services that are available to anyone with an interest in tertiary education management.

We work collaboratively across the sector, with governments, other professional associations and with institutions in pursuit of our aims. ATEM's remit crosses functional, specialist and professional boundaries and, as the only professional association dedicated to the tertiary education management sector in Australia and New Zealand, we are in a unique position to connect individuals and groups who might not otherwise interact with each other, and to bring together like minds to strengthen the sector.

ATEM membership brings with it an additional set of benefits and expectations, and requires a commitment on the behalf of individuals to further develop their knowledge, skills and careers in tertiary education management in a structured and focused way. Our members are professionals, and we support them to challenge themselves to develop their professionalism, both in their approach to their work, and in their conduct in the workplace. Our expectations of our members are high, and we regard them as current and future leaders in tertiary education management.
